August 29, 2003

Dear Counselor:

Enclosed is the 2003-2004 edition of the Institutional Profiles, University of North Carolina. As you know, this report was first recommended by an ad hoc committee of high school counselors convened in the summer of 1992. It is a single source of much of the information used by counselors and students in their consideration of UNC institutions and has grown through the years in its content and value.

This year we wish to remind you of the information about the University's new Minimum Course Requirements for admission. Detailed information is available at http://www.ga.unc.edu/student_info/mcr.html and also through the College Foundation of North Carolina at www.CFNC.org.

Statewide distribution of the Institutional Profiles, as in previous years, includes:

- five (5) copies per high school—for the counseling office, the library or other school offices; and
- three (3) copies for transfer counselors at each college and university in the state.

A limited number of extra copies of the Institutional Profiles may be obtained by contacting Ms. Judy Munson at (919) 962-1000.

Institutional Profiles is available on the web at:
http://www.northcarolina.edu/pres/publications/publications.cfm/, and additional information for prospective undergraduate students can be found at:
http://www.northcarolina.edu/prospectivestudents.cfm/.
Administrators, counselors, and prospective students should find the information at these sites very helpful.

Gratified by the positive responses to Profiles, I will continue to welcome your comments and suggestions for improvements. I wish to thank you and your colleagues for the important work you do to help students achieve their full academic potential.

Sincerely,

Molly Corbett Broad

Introduction

The profiles, tables, and narrative materials in this document were prepared in response to suggestions from school counselors and university staff. Their purpose is to consolidate essential information about the constituent institutions of the University of North Carolina into one publication for use by school counselors, students, and their parents.

The information contained in this document is not exhaustive. The task of providing complete information about academic programs, college costs, and campus life properly remains with each individual campus and we invite you to write or visit campus admissions offices as your interests dictate. The information in this document is provided to introduce students and their parents to each campus and to facilitate comparisons among campuses on measures of special importance to prospective college students.

The University of North Carolina institutions participate in the College Foundation of North Carolina (CFNC) website, the single best source to plan for college, apply to college, and pay for college (www.CFNC.org) in North Carolina. Using CFNC, students can explore their career interests, search the educational programs offered across the campuses, and learn how to pay for college. In addition, online applications for all 16 campuses are available through CFNC.

Also, the CFNC Resource Center's TOLL-FREE telephone line at 866-866-CFNC is provided to assist with any questions about going to college in North Carolina. Resource specialists are available Monday through Friday to assist students, parents, and educators with their questions.

Institutional Profiles is produced once annually in the fall and distributed to high school counselors and transfer counselors in North Carolina. Suggestions for improvement or changes in distribution should be forwarded to:

Note: The data in these profiles are as current as our data collection schedules permit; no estimates or projections are provided for future years. This is because campus policies are always subject to change due to changes in state and federal laws, regulations, and funding levels, and of course, to the campus governance process itself. These changes are seldom large, however, and rarely affect essential differences among the campuses.

Notes and Explanations

Please be aware of the following as you study and use the institutional profiles of the University of North Carolina.

- The abbreviations of the 16 campuses of the University of North Carolina used in this publication are as follows:

ASU	Appalachian State University	UNC-A	University of N.C. at Asheville
ECU	East Carolina University	UNC-CH	University of N.C. at Chapel Hill
ECSU	Elizabeth City State University	UNC-C	University of N.C. at Charlotte
FSU	Fayetteville State University	UNC-G	University of N.C. at Greensboro
NCA&T	N.C. Agricultural and Technical State University	UNC-P	University of N.C. at Pembroke
NCCU	N.C. Central University	UNC-W	University of N.C. at Wilmington
NCSA	N.C. School of the Arts	WCU	Western Carolina University
NCSU	N.C. State University	WSSU	Winston-Salem State University

- Data in the institutional profiles reflect what was current when taken to press, and may be subject to change over the course of the year.

- Admissions criteria include factors other than high school rank and SAT scores, and may vary from institution to institution.

- High school class rank and SAT score profiles are based on enrolled first-time freshmen who had both sets of data at the time of their admission. Some non-traditional students may not be represented in these profiles.

- The retention rate is based on the first-time full-time freshmen entering each institution in the fall of 2001 and returning to the same institution for their sophomore year in the fall of 2002. Graduation and persistence rates are based on fall 1996 first-time full-time freshmen. Graduation rates show the percentage of these freshmen who have graduated from their original institution after 4, 5, and 6 years; persistence rates show the percentage who have either graduated or are still enrolled at their original institution after 4, 5, and 6 years.

- The estimated annual student cost includes estimates for a regular nine-month college year. Estimates for summer attendance are not included.

- Advanced Placement (AP) and International Baccalaureate (IB) credit information is shown in abbreviated form. Institutional policies represent final authority.

- The 1990 version of the Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) taxonomy developed by the National Center for Educational Statistics is the source for program titles used in the Bachelor's Degree Programs Offered (specific majors) section and also in Appendix G, Active Academic Degree Programs. The CIP program titles may be slightly different than the titles for majors used by the individual institutions in their publications.

- The titles for persons shown as directors of student financial aid and directors of admissions are generic. Exact titles may vary from one institution to another. Correspondence addressed as shown will reach the proper person.

Appendix F. What Students Need to Know about UNC Minimum Course Requirements

At its April 2000 meeting, the Board of Governors of the University of North Carolina acted to phase in two increases in its minimum course requirements for undergraduate admission. The current requirements continue until fall 2004, when the first increase is phased in: 2 course units of a second language. Then, in fall 2006, the second increase goes into effect: a 4th unit of mathematics. (These requirements are detailed on p. ii.) Individual UNC institutions may require additional courses, as indicated in each institution's profile in this publication and at the College Foundation of North Carolina web site: www.CFNC.org.

The implementation schedule for the new requirements means that students in grades 9-12 in the 2003-04 school year will face different course requirements when they are ready to seek university admission. The requirements that each class will have to meet are shown below:

Student's Grade in 2003-04	Anticipated Year of High School Graduation	Requirements for Undergraduate Admission to a UNC Institution
12	2003-04	Current (see p. ii) plus 2 units of a second language
11	2004-05	Current plus 2 units of a second language
10	2005-06	Current plus 2 units of a second language and a 4th unit of mathematics
9	2006-07	Current plus 2 units of a second language and a 4th unit of mathematics

Thus, students currently in grades 11 and 12 in the 2003-04 school year (and entering a UNC institution before fall 2006) will need to have completed two or more units of a second language. And students currently in grades 9 and 10 (and entering a UNC institution during fall 2006 or later) will need to have completed two or more units of a second language and a fourth unit of mathematics.

The Board took this action to ensure that freshmen have a strong chance of completing a baccalaureate degree. A study of 1997-98 North Carolina public high school seniors who enrolled at a UNC institution in the fall of 1998 found significant differences in performance among those students who met only the current minimum course requirements, those who met only the additional second language requirement, and those who met both the additional second language requirement and the additional fourth unit of mathematics requirement. Here is a summary of the study's findings:

Courses Taken	Freshman-to-Sophomore Retention Rate	First-Year Grade Point Average	Placement in Remedial English or Mathematics
Only those currently required	66.7%	1.71	42.7%
Those currently required plus 2 units of a second language	75.5%	1.96	31.6%
Those currently required plus 2 units of a second language and a 4th unit of mathematics	81.8%	2.28	17.0%

Students who took more than two units of a second language or more than four units of mathematics performed even better. The study also revealed that 95 percent of the freshmen at UNC institutions had already completed two or more units of a second language, and 81 percent had already completed four or more units of mathematics. Thus, students who decide to meet the Board's fall 2004 or fall 2006 requirements before they are required to do so will take an important step in becoming more competitive when they enroll in college. They need not wait until requirements are in effect.
