Brief Description

UNC Charlotte is a rapidly growing university, serving as the only doctoral/research-intensive university in the dynamic Charlotte region of nearly 1.6 million people. Seven academic colleges (Architecture, Arts and Sciences, Business, Computing and Informatics, Education, Engineering, and Health and Human Services) and the Graduate School offer 89 baccalaureate, 61 master's, and 18 doctoral programs. The University also offers a multidisciplinary Honors College for talented, motivated undergraduates. The 950-acre campus, with more than 100 buildings, includes seven new academic buildings completed within the last three years and a state-of-the-art library. The University is committed to equality of opportunity and a diverse student body.

History

Established as Charlotte Center of the University of North Carolina in 1946. Became Charlotte College, a two-year community college, in 1949 and a four-year, state-supported college in 1963. Merged into the University of North Carolina in 1965.

Location

Eight miles from uptown Charlotte, the largest city in the Carolinas with a metropolitan population of more than 1.5 million.
